LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL
from
THE SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY BOARD

December 28, 1951

To His Excellency, the Honorable James F. Byrnes, Governor of South Carolina, and to the Honorable members of the General Assembly of South Carolina:

Dear Sirs:

We have the honor to transmit the report of the South Carolina State Library Board for the fiscal year ending June 20, 1951.

Herein are contained a report of the State Library Board's activities for the past year and the annual statistical report for each public library in the State.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES A. ROGERS, Chairman

EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY BOARD

July 1, 1950 - June 30, 1951

The South Carolina State Library Board was created by the State Legislature in 1929. It began its present operation in 1943 when it received its first appropriation. It is administered by a Board of five citizens, appointed by the Governor upon the recommendation of the Superintendent of Education. A staff of six members, three of them professional librarians, carry out the program of the Board in extending and improving public library service in South Carolina.

WHAT THE STATE LIBRARY BOARD DOES

The State Library Board is charged with the responsibility to "create public libraries over the entire State . . . and to devise and carry into effect methods by which libraries may be extended to the rural districts of the State." In carrying out this program, the State Board—

- Has developed an intelligent plan for economical and efficient public library service for all citizens of the State.

- Provides professional direction and advisory services to the public libraries of the State.

- Administers State Aid to County Libraries and Regional Libraries.

- Sets up standards of service for the guidance of the public libraries.

- Maintains Book Deposit Service to communities in counties without countywide library service and to State Institutions with no libraries or with inadequate libraries.

- Works with the counties in planning either the establishment of rural library service or the improvement of existing service.

- Maintains an inter-library loan service which makes any public library book available to any public library patron in the State.

- Cooperates with other State agencies and organizations in service programs.

- Works to the betterment of the State, economically, socially and educationally, by providing materials to insure the State an informed public able to deal intelligently with the problems of today.

Landrum people flock around the Spartanburg County Library bookmobile. The bookmobile carries 1800 books offering a wide choice of subject.

WHAT THE BOARD HAS ACCOMPLISHED

The Board's program of library extension and improvement based upon the larger unit of service—the county or regional library—has gained national recognition. Basically, the plan is one of the soundest in the country. Thirty-seven counties now have countywide library service and the thirty-eighth has recently appropriated money to establish this service. The Board is working closely with the counties in the H-Bomb area to establish or extend library service through cooperation with the Federal Government. Book Deposit service is given to communities in unserved areas and to eight State Institutions. In the eight years since the establishment of the Board, public library service has been extended to 288,435 more South Carolinians than previously had this service. Local support of public libraries has tripled and the book stock of public libraries has increased to 1,128,116. The annual circulation of books from the public libraries of the State was 4,809,871—1950-51. Statistics are a poor measure of a library's service to people of a State. The number of books circulated is minor to the information, education and recreation provided through the county and regional library systems with their branches and bookmobiles making books and reading readily available to all the people whether they live in towns, villages or remote rural areas.

STATE AID

The program of State Aid to County and Regional Libraries begun in 1943 has been instrumental in the development of the system of county and regional libraries which now serve all but nine of the State's forty-six counties. The objective of the State Aid program has been from the beginning to stimulate the development of large units of public library service with staff, equipment and books adequate to render modern public library service. In part the objective has been accomplished. Small, inadequate and poorly supported village, municipal and township libraries have joined together to form county library systems with a basis of support wide enough to furnish financial support more adequate to meet the costs of public library service. In two incidents county libraries have joined together to form regional libraries which have been able to give better service at lower cost to the people of the entire region. As far as accomplishing better organization for library service is concerned, the results of State Aid have been out of all proportion to the amount of State funds going into the program. On the other hand, library service which can be judged "adequate" by any recognized library standards has not been achieved. This is partially due to the insufficiency of the State Aid grant and to the failure of local appropriating bodies to make available sufficient funds to support more than minimum public library service.

State Aid is in two forms: Regional Library Establishment Grants to encourage the voluntary combination of two or more counties for more effective library service; Regional Maintenance Grants and State Aid Grants to County Libraries for book purchase and salaries of professional personnel. State Aid is only granted to county and regional libraries which meet certain minimum standards of service. County libraries which qualify for State Aid may receive up to $1,000 in State Aid annually on a matching basis. A cash allotment is made directly to county libraries which are well established and in charge of a trained librarian. The smaller county libraries in charge of non-professional personnel receive the same amount ($1,000) in books, and as an additional service, the State Library Board purchases and processes the books and ships them to the library completely ready for circulation.

STATE AID REQUIREMENTS

County Library Boards applying for State Aid agree to the following:

- I. To work toward the consolidation of all public libraries in the county to form a strong county library system which will ensure better service for all.
- II. To work for increased support of the library and toward eventual tax support or to union with the adjoining county or counties if a tax levy in a single county would not provide adequate support.

Vacation Reading Clubs keep the children reading during summer months. The Circus Reading Club of the Cherokee County Library, Gaffney.

- III. To adopt a budget with correct proportions between salaries, books and maintenance.
- IV. To employ as soon as possible a trained librarian to direct the work of the library.
- V. To the systematic purchase of books from standard library lists.
- VI. To maintain or contract for service from a central library from which the system is administered which must:
 - a. Be kept open 72 hours a week (population of 75,000 or over); 54 hours a week (population 40,000-75,000); 36 hours a week (population 15,000-40,000); 24 hours a week (population under 15,000).
 - b. Provide adequate space for reading room, book processing and book shelving.
 - c. Provide sufficient equipment and supplies.
 - d. Maintain a basic reference collection and periodical subscriptions.
- VII. To develop an accepted plan (Bookmobiles, branches, stations, etc.) for the distribution and use of books throughout the county.
- VIII. To supply the State Library Board with such statistics and information as it may request.

County libraries receiving State Aid by direct cash allotment, 1950-51:

Aiken	Horry
Charleston	Lancaster
Cherokee	Laurens
Chester	Newberry-Saluda Regional
Colleton	Library
Darlington	Orangeburg
Dillon	Richland
Greenville	Spartanburg
Greenwood	Sumter

County libraries receiving State Aid in Books equivalent of cash allotment:

Abbeville	Kershaw
Allendale-Hampton-Jasper Regional Library	Lee
Anderson	Lexington
Berkeley	Marion
Calhoun	Marlboro
Fairfield	Oconee
Florence	Pickens
Georgetown	Union
	York

Regional Maintenance Grants of $500 per participating county were received by the Allendale-Hampton-Jasper Regional Library and by the Newberry-Saluda Regional Library.

COMMUNITY BOOK DEPOSITS

The Community Book Deposit Service of the State Library Board is bringing books to communities and State Institutions which otherwise have little library service or none at all. Deposits of books, varying in size from 100 to 1000 volumes, are placed in the community or institution and are exchanged every three months for new collections. This service is under the personal supervision of a professional librarian from the staff of the State Library Board who visits the deposit station, talks with the custodian, and makes every effort to see that the books fit the needs of the community or institution.

Communities taking advantage of this service:

Bamberg County—Bamberg
 Barnwell County—Williston
 Chesterfield County—Chesterfield, Cheraw, McBee, Pageland
 Clarendon County—Manning, Paxville, Sardinia, Summerton
 Dorchester County—Harleyville, St. George, Summerville
 Edgefield County—Edgefield, Johnston
 Williamsburg County—Kingstree

State Institutions using this service:

State Hospital
 State Penitentiary
 Industrial School for Boys
 Summer Orthopedic Camp for Children
 Crippled Children's Convalescent Home
 State Training School
 School for Deaf and Blind

LOANS TO INDIVIDUALS

Persons living in counties which do not yet have countywide library service may borrow books directly from the State Library Board. Loans are made by mail and may consist of one book for an individual or a collection of books for a family or a club group.

INTERLIBRARY LOAN

A great, and ever increasing need of the State, is a central reference and research library properly staffed and with adequate collections both of books and reference materials to meet the need of reference and research facilities by the people and industries of the State. Such a library would contribute directly to the industrial progress of the State and to the development of more effective programs by the various State departments.

At present no public library and no college library in the State can afford to supply the materials and services needed by the business and industry of the State for reference and research. Such service could be rendered most effectively by a central reference library at state level which could serve state governmental agencies, business and industry and the people of the State, through collecting, organizing and making available the books and periodicals recording the results of research and experience in many fields. Such material, made generally available throughout the State, would aid materially in the progress of the State. At present the need for material on special subjects is partially met through an interlibrary loan system among the libraries of the State which is operated by the State Library Board. Loans are arranged and made between libraries to fill the requests of patrons. In theory, this service makes any book in the libraries of the State available to any reader in the State. It is of mutual benefit to libraries and their patrons and results in more effective service at lower cost.

INFORMATION AND ADVISORY SERVICES

To existing libraries: The smaller county and municipal libraries, still in charge of untrained personnel, depend wholly on the State Library Board for professional guidance and assistance. The Board serves as a source of professional information on all phases of library procedure and practice. Selective lists of books for purchase are prepared and advice is given on firms which allow the best discounts to libraries. Assistance to libraries in reorganizing book collections and entire libraries, advice on new and better processes and guidance in the general improvement of library services, are all functions of the State Library Board. Assistance is constantly sought by local library boards on budget making, book purchase, employing librarians, library reorganization and staff regulations and procedures. The staff of the State Library Board works closely with the library boards and staffs of newly established libraries and is largely responsible for the organization and operational procedures of new county and regional libraries.

Information and help in organizing library services are given by the staff to individuals and organizations in counties which do not have countywide library service and which are interested in establishing it.

The professional staff of the State Library Board serves as consultant librarians for library boards which are planning new buildings, new equipment and new bookmobiles.

CENTRALIZED SERVICES

At the offices of the State Library Board in Columbia, the State Aid program, the Interlibrary Loan System, and the Book Deposit Service are planned and administered. Books for State Aid to 18 counties, for the Book Deposit Service and for the Board's own collection of reference material are selected, ordered and processed. An average number of books prepared for use during one year is around 20,000 volumes. Book collections to meet a special need in a county library are gotten up, packed and shipped. Requests for interlibrary loan of materials are checked and the books shipped. Financial records of the State Board are kept and monthly and annual reports made of expenditures and activities of the Board. Publicity copy and public relations suggestions are prepared and made available to the public libraries. Work shops and in-service training programs are planned for public library personnel. The office of the Board is open six days a week from 8:30 to 5:30 to serve the public libraries, librarians and library trustees of the State.

LIBRARIES AND THE H BOMB

The Savannah River Project will directly affect three South Carolina counties. The counties officially included in the area are Aiken, Allendale and Barnwell. Other counties in the area, though not officially included, will also be affected by the development of the H Bomb project.

Of the counties directly affected, only Aiken and Allendale Counties have countywide library service. Four counties out of the nine counties in the State still without countywide library service are in the general area of the project. The State Library Board and the people in all of the counties concerned have been working since the announcement of the project toward some form of Federal financial assistance which will allow library service to be established or extended to the unserved people in the area and to the new people coming into the area in connection with the H Bomb project.

The librarians, trustees, members of the delegation, and interested citizens in each county have been kept fully informed of developments both at state and national level affecting libraries in the H Bomb area. A report of library conditions in each county and of anticipated needs was made and submitted to the Federal Security Agency in all counties concerned. Plans are nearing completion for either an addition to present library buildings or for completely new library buildings which will be constructed if Federal funds become available. At the same time statements concerning the need of additional personnel, equipment, and books have been prepared.

In Aiken county, where funds had already been appropriated for the extension and renovation of the present library building to house countywide library service before the H Bomb project was announced, plans for the work on the library building have been completed.

Since libraries are specifically named as an essential community facility in the Defense Housing and Community Facilities Act there is reason to hope that Federal funds will be allocated to libraries in the areas if library boards are able to present a well documented case in support of their request.

FEDERAL LEGISLATION AFFECTING LIBRARIES

Libraries included in final Defense Housing and Community Facilities Act: Libraries were specifically included in the Defense Housing and Community Facilities Act passed by both houses of Congress in August 1951. This is the first time libraries have been recognized as one of the vital community facilities along with water supply, sewage treatment, health, recreation and police protection.

The passage of this bill did not provide huge sums of money to the libraries in impacted areas, but it does help. $100,000,000 was provided for community facilities—which includes libraries.

Library Service Bill (S. 1452): The Library Service Bill was introduced in the Senate in May by Senator Lister Hill (D) of Alabama, Senator Aiken (R) of Vermont and Senator Douglas (D) of Illinois.

On August 17, eight Library Services Bills were introduced in the House. The Bills are identical and are similar to the Senate Bill (S. 1452).

The success in keeping libraries in the Defense Housing and Community Facilities Act, improves the possibility for getting the Library Services Bill passed by Congress. This Bill is designed to promote the strengthening and extension of library service to people in need of additional informational, technical, and morale building library materials.

What passage of the Bill will mean in South Carolina: South Carolina would be eligible for the initial allotment of $40,000, plus $131,214 on the basis of rural population, or a total of $171,214 from federal funds. The State Library Board would submit a plan for the use of the funds to the Commissioner of Education, and the program would be administered by the State Library Board.

LIBRARY BUILDING PROGRAM

The Chester County Library now occupies new quarters in the building which was completed in December 1951. The whole lower floor of the war memorial building is given over to the county library and was especially planned for county library service. The library is beautifully furnished in "Swedish Modern" style. Bright colors, good lighting, and attractive display cases make this one of the most attractive libraries in the State.

Construction was begun on the Richland County Library building in Columbia. This building will be the largest public library building in the State when completed. The plans were carefully worked out to provide easy supervision and administration of county library service.

Plans are being drawn up for an addition to the Dibble Memorial Library Building in Aiken which, when constructed, will house public library service for Aiken and Aiken County.

Plans are being completed for the new building which will house the Georgetown City-County Library. An interesting feature of this plan is the incorporation of the old Georgetown County gaol, a building dating from colonial times, in the new library building. A feature of this building will be the children's room which opens on a garden court. A small auditorium seating 200 is included in the plan.

New Headquarters of the Chester County Library.

LIBRARY PROGRESS DURING YEAR

The new building for the Chester County Library was completed.

Construction was begun on the new Richland County Library building.

Branch libraries were opened for negroes in Mullins, Dillon, Hampton and Clinton.

Public libraries of the State were asked to serve as information centers for the Civil Defense program.

Through the cooperation of the Sign Department of the State Penitentiary a standard metal sign was developed to mark book-mobile stops.

A work shop for public librarians was held at Clemson in May.

STANDARDS FOR PUBLIC LIBRARIES*

"The essence of the many standards for public libraries may be compressed into three basic elements, all of which are necessary in a planned program of library development:

1. Complete public library coverage.
2. Library service of adequate quality and dynamic quality.
3. Large units and cooperation in library service.

Registration

"Registration standards are affected by city size, age groups and the educational levels of adult population . . . The number of registered borrowers in public library units should meet the following minimum quantitative standards, based on a three-registration period:

*Post-War Standards for Public Libraries, American Library Association, 1943.

For adult borrowers: 20 to 40 per cent of the population 15 years of age and over.

For juvenile borrowers: 37 to 75 per cent of the population from 5 through 14 years of age.

For both adult and juvenile borrowers the per cent of the population registered will tend to rise as the population of the unit served decreases.

Number of Books

"The total book stock of a public library should be sufficient to insure at all times an adequate collection for consultation and home use. The number of volumes per capita in a public library should meet the minimum standards shown in the following table:

Population of Library Area	Volumes per Capita
6,000- 10,000	3.0 up to 25,000 volumes
10,000- 35,000	2.5 up to 70,000 volumes
35,000- 100,000	2.0 up to 175,000 volumes
100,000- 200,000	1.75 up to 300,000 volumes
200,000-1,000,000	1.5 up to 1,000,000 volumes
Over 1,000,000	1.0 volumes

"The minimum size of the book stock of any public library as an independent unit, should be 6,000 volumes regardless of the population served. A smaller collection cannot be expected to achieve the objectives here set forth.

Circulation of Books

"The circulation of books for home use in public library units should meet the following minimum quantitative standards:

For adult books: 3 to 10 volumes per capita for the population of 15 years of age and over.

For children's books: 10 to 30 volumes per capita for the population from 5 through 14 years of age.

For both adult and children's books the circulation per capita will tend to rise as the population of the unit served decreases.

Hours of Service

"At least 40 man hours of public service should be provided annually for each 100 persons in the total population served by a public library. Not more than 60 per cent of this public service time should be devoted to circulation procedure."

LIBRARY INCOME*

"The following minimum per capita standards of support are recommended for varying stages of development of library service in areas with 25,000 population and over:

For limited or minimum service.....	$1.50 per capita
For reasonably good service	2.25 per capita
For superior service	3.00 per capita

At $1.50 per capita, 65% of income used for salaries, exclusive of maintenance; 17.5% for books, periodicals and binding.*

Minimum Income—$25,000

In libraries serving areas where $25,000 cannot be raised under the permissible tax levy, consideration should be given to one of two alternatives: enlarge the area of service and support by formation of a library district; or contract for library service from a larger unit."

NO LIBRARY IN SOUTH CAROLINA MEETS ALL ITEMS IN THE "STANDARDS".
